W. L. SMITH A WINNER

The Republican County Organization In Liverpool.

JAMES N. HANLEY THE SECRETARY

Committeemen From the Southern Part of the County Were Alive to Their Own Interests Yesterday—No Change in the Method of Holding the Primaries.

It was a happy, contented party of Republicans who came home from Lisbon last night, and they were glad because W. L. Smith had been made the county chairman and James N. Hanley the county secretary.

Immediately after the convention in the court room yesterday afternoon the central committeemen met in the grand jury room, and lost no time in getting down to work. There was a large attendance, and as there was a disposition to get through the work as soon as possible, matters were rushed. William Hostetter placed the name of W. L. Smith in nomination for county chairman, and he was elected by acclamation, as was Secretary Hanley, who was nominated by J. J. Purinton. Being in excellent humor because of the success of the first part of the meeting, there was no opposition to the name of William Hostetter when it was presented in connection with the treasurership. He was elected without a dissenting voice, and a motion to adjourn was already made when J. J. Purinton asked to be heard. He had been listening to the weak complaints of some Republicans regarding the big vote in East Liverpool, and had a suggestion that would be important. In short, he wanted the primaries conducted under the state law, and carried on with rules strictly enforced. There was silence in the room as the Liverpool man urged the inauguration of his plan into law, but various nods of approval were seen as he put forward the plan to keep Democrats from aiding in the selection of our ticket. James Martin supported the position taken by Mr. Purinton, and argued that Democrats should not be permitted to make tickets in order to knock them down. Doctor Hunter, of Unity township, was a believer in the old form, and plainly told his views to the convention. W. V. Blake explained the increased vote in East Liverpool, and the question was left with the meeting. Chairman Smith waited patiently for some one to make a move for several minutes, but as none appeared he called for adjournment, and the session was over. The position taken by East Liverpool had its effect upon the other members, and there were no more allusions to the running of the ferry boat and the coming up the river of the Ben Hur. After the meeting there was a gathering of the clans, and the battle was fought again. There were explanations and excuses and wonderings, but as there were no serious objections at any particular point, the committeemen went home proud to know that the organization in Columbiana county was in better condition than ever, and the party would make a good showing when the men who had been nominated came up for election.

Candidates in search of office next year were there in abundance, and made political hay while the representative Republicans of all townships were together. E. M. Crosser had a host about him all the time, and when he was ready to start for home the word was already on its way to the most remote parts of the county that he was a candidate for recorder, and judging from the expressions of approval heard on every side there are reasons for believing that he is not only the strongest candidate in the field, but will be the leader in the race until the votes are counted next spring. There were numerous aspirants on hand to urge their claims for the position held by Clerk King, and not a few were there to say they would like to be commissioner. As yet no man can lay claim to their positions on the ground that he has it all his own way, but there is a strong suspicion abroad that East Liverpool will get the commissioner. The best of feeling was shown throughout the day, and there were no dissensions. The defeat of D. J. Smith was perhaps the most widely discussed question, and great regret was expressed on every hand.

The East Liverpool delegation attending the convention was the largest seen in Lisbon for many years, and the honor given to this city by the selection of the chairman and secretary from among its members brought out some comment, but not of an adverse nature. One Lisbon man remarked that "Liverpool seemed to have everything in sight," when a West township Republican replied, "Well, who deserves it more?" That was the sentiment.

Address, Comrade A. P. Howard.
Five minute speeches.
Led by Comrade D. J. Smith.
Music, "America," Glee club and audience.
Banjo solo and song, "Babylon is Fallen," W. H. Surles.
Benediction.
Commodore J. C. Allison, Master of Ceremonies.

The persons who are on the program will rehearse in Bradshaw hall this evening. All are expected to be present. Commander Nutt will arrive in the city tomorrow morning, and will be the guest of the committee during the day. He will be shown the potteries, and all others interesting sights in the city, and time will not be permitted to hang heavily on his hands.

The local organization sent an invitation to the Wellsville brethren, and they will be here in force. It is thought that a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity to spend a pleasant evening.

TWO DRUNKS.

But One Was Suffering Otherwise and Was Released.

The city jail contained two new prisoners last night although only one was fined.

George Cox was wandering about in the vicinity of city hall last night with too much liquor aboard to know the danger of the locality when Officer Earle found him. He was locked up, and this morning paid Mayor Gilbert $5.00 for his amusement.

Michael, or as he is better known "Micky" McCann was found in a drunken condition by Officer Meador near the Dresden pottery last night at 11:30 o'clock. The patrol was called and Patrolman McMillen responded but on promise to go home McCann was released. Suspecting that he would wander around and lie down the officers followed him and arrested him a second time near the Standard livery stable on Seventh street. He was taken to city hall and spent the night in jail but was released without being fined this morning. McCann was in bad condition, being swollen to almost twice his normal size with dropsy, and unable to button his shoes and clothes. He has been homeless for some time.

A SUMMER PARK.

Manley's Band Will Have One Over the River.

A park where persons seeking pleasure can find it with little exertion will soon be one of the institutions of Grant district.

The ground is what has long been known as the Pussey orchard, and is situated opposite the ferry landing. A portion of the trees are being cleared away, but enough will be left to make a pleasant grove. A platform will be built, and a bicycle track is numbered among the plans. Base ball and tennis grounds will be laid out, and the public given all sorts of conveniences. It will be under the management of the Manley band, who have a lease upon the property, and will be ready for use as a pleasure ground when warm weather comes. The band is sparing no expense, and all the fittings will be of the best.

River Notes.

The stage of water is still sufficient to float the largest towboats and allow them to navigate without trouble. The Little Dick, Pacific and Clifton passed down with small tows, two of the boats having left several barges at Pittsburgh which were intended for the present trip. The towboat Ark is on its way from Cincinnati with a tow of empties. This boat made the trip down with a big tow in 30 hours.

CAMERON HAD MONEY

And He Wanted to Send it to His Brother.

A STORY FROM THE NORTH

William B. Cameron Sent Money From Niagara Falls to L. B. Cameron in Lisbon, Then He Tried to Kill Himself. The County Treasurer Went to Buffalo Today.

A special from Niagara Falls contains the following:

About 7:30 o'clock this evening, a well dressed man called at the American Express company's office in the Tenth street station, and taking $2,000 in bills out of his pocket, directed that $2300 of it be sent to L. B. Cameron, Lisbon, O., and $300 of it to J. Noble, Wellsville, O. This latter amount he said was to build a monument over his wife's grave. He signed himself William Bain Cameron.

When Agent McElven's attention was called to the circumstances, he at once realized that there was something wrong, and notified the police, who, upon making a search, found the man on Main street with a large clasp knife open in his hand. His right wrist was fearfully lacerated by three deep wounds, and the fact that the point of the blade is missing leads to the belief that it was broken off in the wrist. Blood flowed from the wound in streams. The discovery and arrest was most timely. At the police station the prisoner said to an officer: "Take your revolver and shoot me through the heart; I am in trouble anyway. I am being followed, and they want to poison me." It was clear the man was deranged. In his pockets were found $51.25 in cash and two baggage checks. One was for a trunk from Allegheny, Pa., to Buffalo; the other from Clifton, Ont., to this city. The latter check told that he had crossed one of the bridges to Canada, and there checked a valise. Later it was revealed that he left a letter at the express office. It was dated Clifton, April 16, and recited how, ever since he was 12 years old, he had had mental trouble. In the letter he states that he left the train outside of Buffalo and walked into the city in order to escape the men he felt were chasing him. He claims to have left Pittsburgh this morning, but it is thought his home is in Lisbon, O.

The Treasurer's Brother. Special to the NEWS REVIEW. Lisbon, April 17.—Treasurer Cameron left this afternoon for Buffalo, having been called there by a telegram. He has a brother bearing the name given in the dispatch from Niagara Falls, and it is thought here that he is the man.

POTTERS WILL PLAY.

Decorators and Clay Hands to Have a Ball Game Saturday.

The decorators have been talking so much base ball at the West End pottery and the employees of the clay shops in the same plant have been so certain that the decorators cannot win at anything that the rivalry has had the usual result. The two factions will battle on the West End grounds on Saturday afternoon next for $25 a side. That it will be a game for blood as well as cash can be seen by the following:

Thomas Clark Dead.

Thomas Clark, a well-known resident of Third street, died last night after a long illness. In January last he had a cancer removed from his neck and was ill for weeks at Mercy hospital, in Pittsburgh. This was followed by a period of convalescence, but in a few weeks he began to grow worse, and never recovered his strength. He was 57 years of age, and leaves three children, Homer, Henry and Ella, all well known in this city. The remains will be taken to Beaver tonight, and the interment will take place there tomorrow. He was a conscientious Christian, beloved by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

The Horse Thief Pleads Guilty.

John Shearer, the Pittsburgh man who was arrested in Wellsville yesterday morning with the horses of Joseph Laughlin and George Miller and the buggy of Harvey Calvin in his possession, had a hearing before Mayor Sinclair, of Wellsville, last night, and pleaded guilty. He was remanded to jail and will be taken to Lisbon tomorrow for sentence. Shearer talked freely with Laughlin and Calvin, and gave his reasons for the theft as being out of work and penniless. Had he known the neighborhood he could have escaped without trouble.

WORKED A WIDOW.

A German Disappears With a Gold Watch And Her Pocketbook.

The police are looking today for a German stranger who disappeared at the same time a gold watch and a pocketbook containing $35 were missed.

The German arrived here 12 days ago. He was recommended by a number of Germans to Mrs. Wilhelmina Voegtli, who keeps a restaurant opposite the Knowles pottery. He said his name was Meyer, and he had just come from Germany. He wanted private boarding, as he had sold his home in Germany two months ago for 36,000 marks, and had brought 20,000 with him. The balance was still due him. He showed Mrs. Voegtli a pocketbook which she says was literally stuffed with $1,000 and $500 bills, and when he promised to pay twice the usual amount for board and give her a present she agreed to take him. Meyer said he had been in Chicago looking for his son who worked there but had not been heard from for seven months. He then went to Pittsburgh to roof the Smithfield street bridge, he said, and finally came here. He was a large fat man with a florid face, and could speak but a few words of English. Monday night he had a dream that his son was coming, and last night Mrs. Voegtli put the room in readiness for his reception. At 10 o'clock this morning Meyer said he had a toothache. He filled the tooth with cotton and started to hunt a dentist. He has not returned and a pocketbook containing $35 which the widow was saving to pay interest, together with a gold watch belonging to Motts Flecht, a boarder, is gone. The only thing Meyer left was a was a board bill of $12. Mrs. Voegtli telegraphed to Pittsburgh to apprehend the stranger, and Chief Gill went to Wellsville after him this afternoon.

A Couple of Cases.

Squire Rose this morning heard the case of Andrew Jackson versus Mrs. Catharine Quinn for $100 damages, alleged to have been done the Jackson residence when carpenters sawed through the partition from the defendant's side. A number of witnesses were examined and the attorneys indulged in several lively tilts which interested and amused. The squire reserved his decision.

M. Brozka entered suit against Forest Farmer in Squire Rose's court this morning for $7.25, claimed due for work and labor. The case will be heard on Saturday at 1 o'clock. The matter concerns the present work on the Diamond pump.

And So They Were Married.

Reverend Rineartz, of the German Evangelical Lutheran church, officiated at the marriage of Mr. C. C. Shoub and Miss Caroline Eckerle. A large number of persons from this city were present, as the young people are well known here. The wedding was the impressive service of the Lutheran church, and after it was over the guests made merry until a late hour. The happy pair will reside in Wellsville.

On Thursday morning at 9:30 the marriage of Rev. Charles Glatzer, of New Castle, Pa., and Miss Elizabeth Ochler, of this city, will take place at the German Evangelical Lutheran church.

Asking Damages.

The case of Porter against Mack is being tried in the United States court in Wheeling, but will likely be completed today. The plaintiff alleges that the defendants are guilty of breach of contract in 1890 because they failed, according to promise to indemnify Porter against the payment of certain liens against property which he sold to the Mack Manufacturing company. Mr. Porter is very well known here, and has many friends who think he should win.

Looking After Claims.

J. W. Morrison, of Lisbon, was in the city this afternoon. He is receiver for the defunct Gazette Publishing company, and during his stay at the Grand is hearing the claims against the sheet as well as adjusting matters with the unfortunate stockholders.

Some Changes.

James Cannon, a well-known potter, has moved his family to Tiltonville, where he has been employed for several months.

William Wise, who has been occupying a residence on Third street, has moved to the East End.

HE CUT TWO DRESSES

The Unknown With a Knife at Work Again.

LITTLE GIRLS WERE THE VICTIMS

As They Mixed With a Crowd in the Diamond—A Daughter of John Green Had Her Dress Ruined—Officer Jennings Has a Clue to the Fellow Who Has Operated So Extensively in This City.

The dress cutter, that most contemptible of creatures, was at work in the Diamond yesterday, and during the afternoon and evening he slashed to shreds the dresses of two little girls.

The name of the little girl whom he chose in the afternoon was not learned. She was standing near the pavement among a big crowd in front of Steinfeld & Viney's place of business when the knife got in its work. It was not until after the crowd had cleared away that she discovered her misfortune, and it was then too late to discover who had done the cutting.

About 8 o'clock last night Jennie, the little daughter of John Green, of Starkey lane, was standing in a crowd of similar size in the same place when she was treated in like manner. The red dress which she wore was slit at the right side from the waist to the bottom and at the back it was cut in a half dozen places, all the rents extending to the bottom. Her case was reported to Officer Jennings and from her he obtained a partial description of the man, who is supposed to have done the cutting. The little girl claimed some tall man with spectacles had crowded against her so that she could hardly move and she did not like his looks. Whether or not this is the man the officer is looking for is not known, but he has sufficient evidence to make matters interesting for the individual if he catches him.

This is the first time the dress cutter has operated here since the Christian church meeting in the Grand Opera house, at which time a young lady's dress was totally ruined by a knife in the hands of some unknown party. That the individual is not only after money but has a desire to amuse himself is evident from his operations among the children, which have long since made him notorious. He cannot get a penalty too heavy if captured.

Want a Road Race.

Some of the fast riders in town are discussing a road race from Lisbon to this city, the start to be made at the court house, and the finish to take place in the Diamond. The promoters of the plan believe that they can secure a sufficient number of entries to make the race an object of interest. At present it is proposed to limit the entries to Liverpool wheelmen.

Pleasant Party.

A number of ladies and gentlemen of East Liverpool were at Georgetown last night, visiting the home of Miss Armenia Trimble. A gladtime was had. Dancing had its votaries, while card playing was also indulged in by those who love the pasteboards. Elegant refreshments were served by the charming hostess.

Will Go to England.

It is said that many East Liverpool people contemplate taking trips to the old country this summer, the rate being such as to make all ambitious to see England or their native heath. The rate from Philadelphia is only $8 for steerage, and that the steamships do a good business can well be imagined.

In Sunny Climes.

P. M. Smith and family, accompanied by Miss Etta, McKeehan, of Clarksburg, W. Va., started for a southern trip which will include a visit to New Orleans, San Antonio, Texas, City of Mexico and a number of other points in Mexico, which will require about a month.—Wellsville Union.

The River is Falling.

The river continues to fall, but boatmen are not thinking of low water just now. They have faith in the April showers that are to come. The packets are all on time, and a little coal is going out. Any number of empties are on their way up stream.

A Congregational Meeting.

An important congregational meeting will be held at the First Presbyterian church this evening. Two have already been held since the church year began, but the business is not yet complete.

Some of the Afflicted.

Thomas Daniels, a clay maker at the Thompson pottery, is confined to his room by the fever.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF Ohio.

When President Cleveland finds time hanging on his hands he writes
a letter and gives it to the correspondents.

Every man on the Republican ticket is worthy the support of the county. All are good men, and will make good officials.

The Democrats can hunt for now until doomsday before they find a man to beat Charley Gill, the next sheriff of the county.

The proposition of J. J. Purinton, to change the system of conducting the primaries did not pass yesterday. The old fashioned way seems good enough for the average Republican.

The praiseworthy characteristic in the personality of Mark Bough is his strong love for the home candidate.
He believes in supporting the man
from home, and so impressed the souls of all who discussed the political situation with him in Lisbon yesterday.

In spite of the fact that D. J. Smith was defeated on Saturday, he can rest content in the knowledge that Liverpool gave him a vote of which he can well be proud. If Salem and Salineville had divided their vote he would have been elected without trouble, and his friends would be congratulating instead of consoling him. Had East Liverpool known that the race was so close, the prophet of Pisgah would have been given a heavier vote in the home of his childhood.

A WINNING ORGANIZATION.

The Republicans of the county
built well when they elected W. L.
Smith chairman of the central committee yesterday afternoon. He is thoroughly versed in the play of politics, and knows well the wiles and tricks of the enemy. His long experience in the politics of the county will stand him in good stead when the duty of conducting the presidential campaign falls upon his shoulders. He is capable in every way, and will preserve the harmony and good feeling that exists at present. In this connection, it might be well to add that the Republicans of the county were never in better condition as a party than they are at present. There is a strong sentiment in favor of the men nominated on Saturday, and there are no evidences of any man bolting the ticket. All old sores are healed, and the wounds will not break out afresh. The winners have been named, and it is now the duty of all Republicans to help the cause along.

Steinfeld & Viney

Made quite a hit with Monsieur
Vernelo, the sleight of hand performer, and attracted an immense crowd as he gave exhibitions of his skill in legerdemain. The affair was a decided novelty. Messrs. Steinfeld & Viney's rooms now present a decidedly handsome appearance, in consequence of enlargement, repairs and a dandy
nice stock of goods.

will attract wide attention.

A CITY WITHOUT A GOVERNMENT.

Redhot Elections Every Year, but the Elected Never Qualify.

The town of Humboldt, Kan., is an organized city of the third class, with 1,500 people, and for 18 years there has not been a municipal officer in the town,
although the city election has been held every year. Thereby hangs a tale, and as it contains a warning against the voting of bonds and going into debt it should be told.

In the spring of 1870 there was projected south from Junction City to Parsons a railroad called the southern branch of the Union Pacific. Humboldt was not a young town then, but bond
voting was the fashion, and Humboldt,
which was old enough to know better,
voted bonds to the extent of $175,000 for the road. Not satisfied with this debt, in 1876 the town voted $25,000 to the Fort Scott, Humboldt and Western,
a road known in the west as the "Old Fifth Parallel." This road was graded from Fort Scott to Humboldt, but it was never equipped. The grade may be seen today by passengers riding along the Missouri Pacific. But the grade did not bring the flood of trade that was expected, and the bonds being sold to the usual "innocent purchaser" the town began to skirmish around the courts to keep from paying an unjust debt. The inevitable came, and in 1876 the town, as a legal corporation, dissolved into thin air.

Then when the officer of the court came to Humboldt in 1876 to compel the mayor to turn over the interest due on the bonds he found that, although there had been a redhot election the spring
before, and although there was a man
there called mayor, there was in deed
and in legal truth no mayor at all.

The situation has remained the same for 18 years. In two years more the debt will be outlawed. Then Humboldt is coming up to breathe the free air once more as a municipal corporation. At present the programme is written upon a "tangled web." Every year the mayor and city council are elected. The old administration retires and the new administration comes in—only it doesn't. It comes to the threshold, but it doesn't enter. It does not "qualify."

The council meets without the oath of office. The mayor is merely chairman of a committee of citizens—the council —and the meetings of the committee are held regularly. Ordinances are passed giving the city marshal and the street
commissioner power to keep the town orderly and clean. The council cannot handle any public money. The little money used by the council is raised by private subscription among the residents of the town, and as it doesn't go through any red tape machine and as every one who pays these volunteer taxes knows just how much he pays for everything the money is not squandered. It is, in fact, a business administration. The city marshal is only a flat functionary.
As city marshal he has power to do nothing except scare small boys who throw melon rinds in the alleys and to notify owners of pigeons to clean up,
but as constable of Humboldt township
he can arrest men and enforce the laws
as well as the best policeman in the world.

The street commissioner has no power,
save with the consent of the people,
whose property he grades up or down.
He is a sort of advisory board. The city clerk issues licenses to show which are clearly flat, and his records of the proceedings of the council would have no weight in any court. None of these appointive officers qualifies. The whole machinery of administration in the little town is carried on by common consent.

The present mayor—the man who was elected, but who has not qualified and will not—is W. T. McElroy, editor of the Humboldt Union. Mr. McElroy has been in the little town for 30 years, and his paper is 29 years old. He thinks when the citizens get out of this hole
the man who offers to vote a bond on the town site will be hanged.

He says that the city stands ready to compromise with the "innocent purchasers" of the bonds for exactly what the purchasers are alleged to have paid, 25 cents on the dollar. This proposition, he declares, has been made and rejected several times. Every few months an officer from some court tries to find funds
of the extinct corporation in some bank in the country. Not long ago the officer tried Iowa. But so far the courts have been unable to get the funds. The little town seems to have the best of the contest, and only time will release it from the trouble.—Memphis Commercial-Apple.

Tonsiline

Should be in every home. A well

of its merits.

SALINEVILLE, O., Mar. 19, '95.
THE TONSILINE COMPANY:

Our daughter, Iva, for a number of years has had attacks of severe ulcerated sore throat or tonsillitis. In past years these attacks have lasted at least two weeks, on an average, while under the care of a doctor and taking different remedies. About January 1, this year, she had a similar attack and we tried Tonsiline. We were surprised to see her entirely well inside of three or four days,
and there can be no doubt Tonsiline is all you claim for it.

Whether the tourist's fancy directs him to the New England States or the Atlantic seaboard; to the South; or to the lake region of the North; or to the Rocky Mountains and the wonderland beyond the Mississippi, he will be given opportunity to indulge his tastes at a small cost for railroad fare this year. There will be low rates to Baltimore over the Pen-sylvania lines in May, account the American Medical association; to Decatur, Ill., account the German Baptist (Dunkard) meeting, and to Pittsburg for the Presbyterian general assembly. There will also be low rates over these lines to Meridian,
Miss., account the general assembly Cumberland Presbyterian church the same month. In June, excursion tickets will be sold over the Pennsylvania line to Omaha account the National Jr. American Mechanics to Chattanooga, Tenn., for the International convention of Epworth league; to Cleveland, O., account the National Republican league meeting,
and to Roanoke, Va., for the German Baptist meeting. Excursions for July include low rates over the Pennsylvania to Baltimore for the Baptist Y. P. Union meeting; to Asbury Park for the L.
A. W. meeting, and to Boston for the Christian Endeavor convention, and to Denver, Col., account the National Educational association meeting. In August excursion tickets will be on sale over the Pennsylvania lines to Boston, account the Knights Templar conclave. The sale of low rate tickets will not be restricted to the members of the organizations mentioned,
but the public generally may take advantage of them.

The Asbury Park excursion will doubtless attract many to that delightful ocean resort. Atlantic City, Cape May, Long Branch, and all the famous watering places along the New Jersey coast are located on the Pennsylvania lines, hence this will be a desirable opportunity to visit the seashore. The Denver excursion will be just the thing for a sight-seeing jaunt through the far west, as tickets will be honored going one way and returning a different route through the most romantic scenery beyond the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. Variable privileges will also be according Boston excursionists, enabling them to visit Niagara Falls, Montreal, Thousand Islands and St. Lawrence Rapids, the White Mountains, the Hudson River territory, and to return
by steamer on Long Island sound, after sight-seeing in Newport, Narragansett Pier, Nantucket and the Cape Cod resorts to New York, and thence through the agricultural paradise of the Keystone state, along the Susquehanna
and Juniata rivers, over the Alleghenies, around famous Horse Shoe curve, through historic Johnstown and the coke and iron regions of Western Pennsylvania. It is also expected that Boston excursionists over the Pennsylvania lines will be privileged to retrace the route to Baltimore and Washington if they so desire.

In addition to the above, there will be plenty of other cheap excursions over the Pennsylvania lines to various points. As the season is some weeks away, arrangements in detail have not been consummated, but it is certain that no railway will offer better inducements than the liberal concessions in rates and privileges that may be enjoyed by travelers on the Pen-sylvania Lines. Apply to any passenger or ticket agent of these lines, or address F. Van Dusen, Chief Assistant Passenger Agent, Pittsburg, Pa.

Caution about the Use and Selection of Spectacles

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eye with ease and comfort. Also will be able to read with each eye separately. If unable to do so your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading or sewing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that glasses are needed. The same hold in the case of those who are of

SUNRISE IN CHICAGO.

A Poet's Description of the Charity Ball at the Auditorium.

The charity ball in Chicago is brilliant, not merely as a fashionable and an eleemosynary occasion. It is endeared to all lovers of poetical description and romantic poetry. Mr. Sylvanus F. Bill, the poet of the Auditorium, emerges once a year from that too strictly preserved retirement in which he has long been engaged in writing a poetical directory of Cook county and fills the Inter Ocean with the splendor of pagantry and the honey of music. The Chicago charity ball of 1895 was held at the Auditorium on last Thursday night, and Mr. Bill described it with his usual wealth of adjective and luxuriance of passion. His exordium was full of might and magnificence:

Like a grim, impenetrable fortress of medieval times the Auditorium looked before the moon swung out like a silver lamp in the midnight sky and cast around the gray tower and austere walls the soft, transforming tissue of its woven beams. Far out over the frozen waters of the lake gazed the deep windows from under their arched brows of fluted stone, as the great monument of Chicago's power flung out a challenge to the eastern world. High to the air the tower, like a mighty forefinger, was pressed upon the changing pulse of Borne, while the quick voice of the telegraph sported the condition of the weather to the listening town.

Clouds hung like a frown upon the building's granite brow, but its heart was filled with melody and beating with human sympathy and kindness. The charity ball was on! And as the music swirled on through the great arches, twinkling with the lights that jewel the roof and fluttering like bright plumed birds among the boxes of ivory and gold, the feet of the mimic armies advancing and retreating fell into rhyme, young voices into sweeter cadences, the scowl on the face of the bending sky melted in laughter, and as the hours with golden feet slipped by

"Silently, one by one, in the infinite meadows of heaven.

Blossomed the beautiful stars, the forgetfulness of the angels."

Mr. Bill, too, swirled in music through the great arches, twinkled and fluttered and advanced in cadence. We seem to see his eyes glittering beneath fluted eyebrows and his pencil pressed like a mighty forefinger upon the paper that throbs with the quick coming thoughts. As he whirls like a strain through the south tunnel we hear with him "the words of the poet architect" of the building:

The utterance of life is a song.

The symphony of nature.

The jewels flash, the laces glitter.

The great procession comes:

Stately dowagers in velvet gowns, with white hair piled high under diamond tiaras, and debutantes with diaphanous draperies, soft locks brushed back from untrodden brows and a rose tucked over one pretty ear. Youth and Age, meeting and courtesying, and when the solid lines broke up and swept in small detachments into the graceful convolutions of the dance it was like the shattering of a rainbow or the sudden separating of a mosaic, whose parts, flying into an exquisite and harmonious whole, were yet complete as single jewels.

Palmetto leaves from the bayous of the south, palms from the islands of the Indies, were knotted with the orange colored taffeta cloth of the chorion, but it did not need tropical foliage to suggest the tropic night. Day-eyes and midnight tresses were there, and girls as fair as the peris who stood at the gates of paradise.

The Hon. N. K. Fairbank goes by with simple but beautiful side whiskers, such as Cupid or a young angel would be glad to have for wings. Peris of paradise and Naiads of the lakeside pass by in bright ranks and to stately measures. Supper is had, and now comes the inevitable end, thinking whereof the Hon. Sylvanus F. Bill is splashed as to his tender nose with drops of vague regret:

The lights in the windows of the town pale into the day; the dancers of the night sleep; the brilliancy and charm of the charity ball are a dream of the past, and "In frost-bordered garments the hushed earth is swaying

Out in the firmament's cradle of blue, And now are the daughters of Music essaying For the God child, Creation, a slumber song new."

The poem has been written, and the proof has been read, but the first flushes of the dawn illuminate the pensive lineaments of Sylvanus F. Bill as he sits by the great rose window in the eighth story of The Inter Ocean building. The pajamas of blue and gold glitter in the first smiles of morn. The ivory slippers on the poetic feet in the casement are touched with reverence to the window where Sylvanus F. Bill is dreaming, his red Turkish nightcap pulled over his godlike waste of brow. It is sunrise in Chicago!—New York Sun.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF THE Probate Court of Columbiana County, Ohio, I will offer for sale, at public auction, on Thursday, the eighth day of April, A. D. 1896, at 9 o'clock, forenoon, upon the premises, the following described real estate, situated in the County of Columbiana, State of Ohio, to wit: Being a part of the southeast quarter of section number twenty-three, township number six, and range number one, bounded as follows: Beginning at the south-west corner of a spike oak, and running east seven feet and fifty links to a locust; thence north twelve chains and fifty links to a linn; thence east five chains to a white oak; thence north twelve chains and fifty links to fifty links to a white oak; thence south twenty-five chains and fifty links to place of a beech, containing about fifty acres, be the same more or less, and thence therefrom the parcel now owned by Abram Moore, and estimated to contain about twenty-nine acres. Said property is appraised at $652.75. Terms of sale—Cash.

FRANK E. GROSSHANS, Administrator of Reuben Rauch, deceased. March 27, 1896.

ONE HOT, ONE COLD.

How They Did It at the Y. M. C. A. Rooms.

The membership contest of the Young Men's Christian association members closed last night, and the winners were given that long promised hot supper.

For months two bodies of young men led by Charley Albright and Will Weaver have been endeavoring to secure members for the organization, and last night the contest closed. The reward of the winners was to be a hot supper while the defeated ones were to content themselves with a cold lunch. The count has been carefully kept, and no one was informed of the number gathered by the respective sides. Last night it was found that Albright and his workers had gathered in 61 members while Weaver could show no more than 39. The warm meal was relished by the winners while their less fortunate brethren were eating ice cream and cake, and listening to the observations at their expense. The result of the contest adds largely to the membership of the association, and is thoroughly appreciated by Secretary Morris.

Two More Kilns.

Workmen are engaged in constructing two kilns at the Walker sewer pipe works, and two more will be added to the number as soon as they can be built. The trade has improved somewhat within the past few months, and all the manufacturers want to be ready for what they think is a revival such as will tax them to their capacity. Orders are better than they were a short time ago, and the outlook is promising. Prices are the same as last fall, and are considered very good.

Carey Is a Batter.

Carey uses a bat that is too heavy for Brouters to swing, but Carey manipulates it like a walking stick.—Ex. Wait until he strikes a fast league pitcher.—Chronicle Telegraph.

Fear not: the lad can take care of himself. He is a batter who can knock the ball, and there is no doubt in the minds of his friends at home that he will show the old league players a thing or two before the season is over.

The Night Owl.

The favorite and famous "Night Owls" Burlesque and Vaudeville company will be at the Grand on Thursday night. In the company are some of the best specialty stars in the world. This season everything is new. Two red hot and spicy burlesques, with 20 pretty girls who can sing and dance. Funny comedians, popular music and gorgeous costumes.

Hunting a Minister.

The morning train going west bore a pair of beating hearts anxious to be joined in the bonds of wedlock. They left the car at this point, and while the young man asked timidly for a German minister the bride to be glanced around the platform and looked happy. The minister could not be found, and the couple were advised to go to Wellsville.

In Washington.

Postmaster M. E. Miskall left last night for Washington, expecting to be absent from the city for several days. At the station he stated to a reporter that he was going on business that was of no particular public interest, yet he refused to make known the nature of his errand.

—Mrs. Calhoun, wife of Doctor Calhoun, of East End, is the guest of friends in East Springfield.

"Here It Is,

Mamma," said the little fellow, as they approached the entrance to our store. Yes, we are here, and prepared to supply the public of East Liverpool and vicinity with the finest footwear in America. We carry everything on foot, and Children's Shoes is one of our specialties. There's nothing Young America likes better than good and stylish Shoes, and the hard usage they receive from their hands, or rather their feet, makes a good article a necessity of economy and comfort.

Our Shoes for children, as well as the balance of our stock, are selected with the utmost care. We never sacrifice style for service and comfort, neither do we sacrifice service and comfort for style; these features, which are essential in first class footwear, can be found in all our shoes.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mrs. Ault is seriously ill at her home on lower Second street with an attack of grip.

Della, the little daughter of C. A. Ferguson, Broadway, is suffering with trachoma, a serious affection of the eyes.

A well known business man is booked for a journey on the matrimonial sea in the near future, according to his most intimate friends.

Mrs. Copeland, of Jackson square, who was burned on Saturday evening by falling in an open grate, will probably have to undergo the amputation of two of her toes.

There is no building boom this year, but occasionally a permit is taken out for a structure. Clerk Hanley issued one today for a residence on Fifth street to Mr. Huston.

Farmers are saying that wheat is looking well, but the nights are too cold to make it as vigorous as it should be at this season. They are all fearing for the fruit, finding little consolation in this line except in apples.

Complaints from several parties who have been compelled to pay for window broken by youthful ball players will probably have the effect of stopping the practice on the streets. Complaints are also coming from other cities.

Word has been received here by some of the Akron potters now in the city that the laying of brick began yesterday at the new factory. The contractors are pushing the work, and will have the pottery completed in time to fire a kiln in July.

The gun club and other lovers of sport in the blue rock line, are thinking already of practicing on the grounds across the river, and will arrange soon to have everything in readiness for shooting. It is expected that several big tournaments will be held here this season.

Miss Liva Shingleton, of Jackson square, is lying in a serious condition with typhoid fever. The young lady, it is stated, was engaged to be married to Will Merchant, who met such terrible death at Ashland, recently, and the shock caused nervous prostration resulting in her illness.

One of the features of the political situation is shown by the fact that a candidate for sheriff when Charley Gill's terms are ended has already appeared. His friends are talking of his chances, and the opinion prevails among the best informed of their number that he will win.

Squire Manley last night united in marriage Robert McGrew and Miss Nancy Cook at his residence. The squire enjoyed the ceremony, as the groom looked almost as old as himself, while his bride was not many years younger. That is to say, Mr. and Mrs. McGrew are not far away from the three score mark.

Although April is the month of movings, such does not always prove the rule and this month at the local freight depot is one of the exceptions. The rush was principally before April, at which time many people came to the city and few departed. The scarcity of household goods either coming or going has been marked during the past two weeks.

A Chicago paper interviewed a large number of traveling salesmen regarding the condition of trade, and among them were a number of crockery and glass men who had been in the west. They all claimed that trade was much better than it was a few months ago, and gave promise of growing as the spring advanced. Not one, however, seemed so enthusiastic that he wanted to shout for joy.

A farmer living on the Lisbon road was engaged in cutting willows yesterday, and neglected to remember that a telephone wire will not support the weight of a heavy tree. As a result Manager Swaney was called upon to repair the line and succeeded in getting it completed late in the afternoon. While the wire was down the only communication with Lisbon was through Rochester.

A report was going the rounds yesterday that a well known young man of this city was a second Vanderbilt; in other words he had purchased 3,100 barrels of oil when it sold at $1.25, and could sell it at $2.35. The gentleman in question denied the statement, although he was decidedly sorry that such was not the case. He thought he would have no objections to a windfall of $4,185, even if it was in speculation.

Some of the local sports who noticed in the Pittsburgh papers last night that the police department of Smoky City had ordered that no base ball bulletins be put up because they were used for gambling purposes, are fearful that there might be some law in this state which could be pressed into service for the occasion. Then their beloved pools would disappear, and some of those who were successful last season would not have the chance to try their luck, and perhaps rake in more shekels the coming season.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Thomas Corcoran was a Pittsburg visitor last night.

—Reverend Smith is the guest of Reverend Reinartz.

—G. W. Meredith left last night for a visit in Washington.

—William Groner, of Beaver, was here today on business.

—George Grosshans was in Smith's Ferry today on business.

—J. M. Howard, of Brushton, Pa., was a city visitor today.

—Mrs. Charles E. Macrum was a Pittsburg visitor yesterday.

—George M. Stevenson, of Canton, was here on business today.

—H. E. Grosshans was in New Cumberland today on legal business.

—James Moore, of Akron, is home suffering from an attack of the grip.

—Attorney J. E. Johnson, of Newark, was in the city on legal business today.

—J. W. Thompson, of Akron, was here calling on friends yesterday and Sunday.

—Dr. J. J. Ikert and Mr. Beatty went to Rochester on business this morning.

—Miss Grace Cameron, of Kensington, was the guest of friends in the city yesterday.

—Joe Cordingly, of Salineville, is in the city, the guest of his sister, Mrs. Harry Kinsey.

—Mrs. R. W. Slayton, of Parkersburg, has returned home after a pleasant visit with friends in this city.

—Frank Leonard, the well known traveler for the Thompson pottery, is home from a trip in the interests of his company.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Barnhart returned to her home in McKee's Rocks, Pa., today after attending the funeral of her son, Charles Schnepf.

—Frank Andrews, of Wheeling, called on friends in the city today.

The gentleman was recently married, and all the boys were congratulating him while they smoked his cigars.

—William Boyd and wife, who have been attending the meeting of presbytery at Toronto, spent last night at the residence of Doctor Calhoun, and left this morning for their home in Mechanicstown.

—Mrs. Anna Leigh, who has been visiting friends in this city, returned this morning to Wheeling. The lady visited here preparatory to making a western trip, by which she hopes to benefit her health.

—Birney Anderson has gone to McDonald, Pa., and will spend some time in the oil field there. The prospect for steady employment is so good that people from all parts of the country are gathering there, and the town promises to be as lively as in the early days of the boom.

Charley Didn't Need It.

"That's a pretty good joke Charley played on us," remarked a voter in the Diamond last night, as a crowd stood discussing the returns while recovering from the dazed condition in which Saturday's vote left them.

"How's that?" asked another.

"Why, the way he hustled around for votes when he only needed 105 in the city to defeat the next highest man. Just think of it; 1,632 votes thrown away in East Liverpool, and the worry we had for nothing. I guess Liverpool don't need to vote when such men as Gill come up for office."

At the Grand.

On Thursday night of this week "The Night Owls," a refined burlesque, will appear at the Grand. This play had a big run in New York and at the Academy in Pittsburg, and will no doubt draw a crowded house.

Gustave Frohman's "New Boy" will be at the Grand on Saturday night for the first time in this city. The "New Boy" has a reputation for being a comical youngster and he introduces some new features that will be appreciated.

A Narrow Escape.

One drunken man, a horse not familiar with street cars, and the Wells-ville road came near being the cause of an accident last night. The driver was so drunk that he could scarcely sit erect and the horse was left to use its own judgment when a car came along. It was frightened and only chance prevented it from going over the hill.

Elks Will Banquet Tonight.

The Elks will hold a social session and banquet in their pleasant rooms in the Thompson building this evening. The affair will be the most elaborate ever attempted by the Elks, and the banquet will be one of the most pretentious spreads ever seen in the city. A most enjoyable evening and a large attendance is expected.

Played in Columbus.

The Adrian college ball club which is being captained by Percy Albright of this city played with the university team this afternoon. The team has made splendid progress since the Liverpool boy took the helm, and it is predicted that it will win the majority of games played during the season.

Waterproof collars and cuffs that you can clean yourself by simply wiping off with a wet sponge. The genuine look exactly like linen and every piece is marked this way:

They are made by covering a linen collar or cuff with "celluloid," and are the only waterproof goods made with an interlining, and the only goods that can stand the wear and give perfect satisfaction. Never wilt and not affected by moisture. Try them and you will never regret it. Ask for those with above trade mark and refuse any imitations. If your dealer does not have them we will mail you a sample direct on receipt of price. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair. State whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

The Celluloid Company,
427-429 Broadway, New York.

Looks Like a Strike.

A Salineville man, who was in the city yesterday, said that there might be a strike of the miners before the summer is over. It all depends upon the result of the attempt to force a reduction in Pennsylvania. If that is successful there will be a demand for cheaper rates in Ohio, and a strike will be the result.

Knights of the Macabees.

The state commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience prove that it cures where all other remedies fail."—Signed P. W. Stevens, state com.—Why not give this give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at T. L. Potts' drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

Don't Like Ball Playing.

People in all parts of the city are complaining because the police do not put down ball playing on the streets. The pleasant days have brought out many young men and ball tossing has become the sport of the hour. It is probable that several parties will make specific charges if the nuisance is not soon abated.

It May Doas Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50 cts. for large bottle. At Potts drug store.
